Homework 6 Writeup

For this homework assignment, the challenges I experienced mostly had to do with the else-if statements and the else statements. I also had issues with the nested for loop. The main issue was dealing with structs and arrays and how to allocate both of them. I was able to solve most of my issues by going back to the notes to look back and follow word for word what the notes said to do. In my test programs I just messed around with input and for and while loops. I want to make sure that allocating different functions also worked.
